Discussion:

Presentation portion went very well, everything seemed to go smoothly, especially with the presentation portion.

Were prompted with questions about our software engineering process, and some technical specifics about our manual and automated testing processes.

We discussed the distribution of workloads, task assignment, and challenges we experienced throughout the course of the project.

See Microsoft Teams for our evaluation criteria.

We need to submit our final report by Sunday, April 28th at midnight. Do not forget to send Brendan/Professor the login details for their HabitConnect account, the Gmail account, and the login details for MongoDB so they can run the site.
